KEKAI combines experience, design and warmth in all its products, adapting to each space so that you always feel at home.

If you love watching how the flames of fire dance for hours but you live in a flat or an apartment, a bioethanol fireplace is the perfect solution.

The “Etna” model will heat the decorative atmosphere of your home with real fire on a stainless-steel burner protected by tempered safety glass.

Place this elegant bioethanol fireplace on a table in the living room, dining room, kitchen or even on a table on the terrace. It is weather resistant and you can use it both inside and outside the home.

It is easy to move and of course it does not require any prior installation. It comes with a manual fire extinguisher.

No ashes, no smoke, no odours and completely ecological.

A very clean way to have a fireplace, which in itself is already a decorative piece, to enjoy the hypnotic effect of fire whenever you want.
